DISMISSAL OF NEGRO TROOPS.

THE QUESTION BROUGHT BE-FORE THE SENATE.

Resolutions Calling for All the Facts Are Introduced by Senators Penrose and Foraker-President Roosevelt Said to be Behind the Penrose Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-The session of Congress to-day had not been in progress more than five minutes when there was an echo of the discussion of the last four weeks over the dismissal of a battalion of the I wenty-fifth (colored) Infantry. Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania started it with a resolution of inquiry and Senator Foraker of Ohio was right on his heels with another resolution having practically the same purpose in view, but asking for certain details. There will be more resolutions of this character before the week is out, and it is already apparent that the whole subject will be thrashed over to the heart's content of everybody in the national Legislature.

Mr. Penrose sprung his resolution before the Senate had fairly gotten down to business. Vice-President Fairbanks told him hat it wasn't customary to begin work intil after the President's message had been received, and Senator Warren of Wyoming, chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, also interposed objection, but Mr. Penrose was insistent and had his way. His resolution provided merely "that he President be requested to communicate to the Senate, if not incompatible with the public interests, full information bearing opon the recent order dismissing from the military service of the United States three companies of the Twenty-fifth Regiment of Infantry, United States troops (colored)."

Mr. Foraker's inquiry was more comprehensive and was directed mainly toward ascertaining exactly what rights and privieges had been taken in each case from the scharged negro soldiers through the President's action. It called also for precedents for the course of the President. This is Mr. Foraker's resolution:

Resolved by the Sengic. That the Secretary War be and he is hereby directed to furhish the Senate copies of all official letters, elegrams, reports, orders, &c., filed in the War Department in connection with the reent discharge of the enlisted men of Comanies B, C and D, Twenty-fifth United States Infantry, together with a complete list of the attendant, a prison warden, a policeman en discharged, showing the record of each, the amount of retained pay (under section 1:81, et seq., Revised Statutes), if any, to the credit of each man at the time of his disharge; the ruling of the War Department, if any has been made in this or any other simlar case, as to the effect upon his right to such retained pay, and also the ruling of the War Department, if any has been made in this or any similar case, as to the effect of such discharge upon the right of an enlisted man to retire on three-quarters pay, with an allowance for subsistence and clothing (under section 1260 et seq. of the Revised Statutes.) and his right to enter a national soldiers' home under section 4821, et seq., of the Revised statutes); his right to be buried in a national cemetery (under section 4878, et seq., of the rapeportation and subsistence from place of discharge to his home, as provided for in secion 1290, et seq., of the Revised Statutes; also in 1721. It is credited to Ireland. egiment, United States Infantry, from the me of its muster in to the date of the disharge of Companies B, C and D. There was no debate on the two resoluions and they went over until to-morrow n accordance with the usual procedure.

Everybody present in the Senate when Mr. Penrose sprung his little surprise thought that his course was intended as a fling at the President. But it developed absequently that they were mistaken. It was President Roosevelt who was really behind the initiative taken. He is anxious get all the facts in the case and is apparently confident that his action will be upheld by Congress and the people when all the facts are known. Everything that is called for by the Penrose resolution is ready and will be sent to the Senate promptly secretary Taft will cover the subject fully also in his annual report, which will be submitted to the President soon.

Mr. Foraker's resolution, unlike that of Mr. Penrose, was not intended to help out the President in his desire to get the facts concerning the dismissals before the Congress and the country. He made plain, in an interview, just what his purpose was, and those who know the Senator from Ohio are thoroughly satisfied that he will make some mighty interesting comments when the question comes up in the Senate.

"The resolution speaks for itself," he said. "I will say, however, that I have no purpose of raising the race question. question involved is broader. It would be unfortunate to have it narrowed down by drawing the color line. It concerns white as well as colored soldiers. It is a question of constitutional power on the one hand and constitutional and statutory rights on the other. Until we have a complete record I do not know just what questions will arise, but we may have to consider whether a man can be convicted of felony by order, and whether, following such a conviction, sentence may be imposed and punishment inflicted by order. Discharges without honor may be granted where they are not based on an offence against the law of the land, the commission of which is denied, and where no punishment follows. But where there is conviction, sentence, punishment I have always supposed that there would have to be also trial, either in a civil court or in a court-martial, or before some other tribunal thereunto duly appointed by law. But it is idle to discuss any of these questions until we know whether they are raised

Senator Penrose, in the language of the sportsman, may be said to have "flushed the covey." There were many resolutions in reserve growing out of the discharge of the colored troops. Even Senator Foraker's resolution, which came out into the open in the form of a substitute as soon as Mr. Penrose submitted his own, was designed to make its debut later on in the form of the Colonel's brothers, sister and nieces, an initiatory resolution rather than a

Senator Tillman had in mind a resolution of inquiry. Things of this species are Mr. l'illman's specialty, and the opportunity afforded by the negro troops incident was not to have been ignored by the South Caroin a Senator. But Mr. Tillman has grown easoned and conservative from his years of service in the Senate, and he was waiting upon the deliberate legislative processes of that body. Unlike most of his Southern confrères, Mr. Tillman does not approve Boiss, Idaho, Dec. 3.-Gov. Frank R. Gooding and all the law abiding citizens of this State who have been upholding him in his steadfast effort to try the men accused of the cruel assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg were pleased to hear to-day that the United States Supreme Court has decided that Mover. Heywood and Pettibone must answer the charge of conspiracy to do murder.

This is the effect, at least, of the court's decision adversely to the habeas corpus proceedings brought by counsel for the a commutation and serve for life with their All the prisoners, including Harry Orchard, who admits doing the actual work of assassination and who implicates the other three, will now be promptly arraigned before Judge Smith and a date set for the trial. It now seems likely that this will be had at the January term of court unless counsel for the accused find means to still further postpone it.

Gov. Gooding to-day desired THE SUN correspondent to say to the people of this country that in this most important case he has all along been determined solely and irrevocably upon one thing-that the men accused of the murder of ex-Gov. Steunenberg should have a fair and impartial trial before the best and squarest jury that Idaho could produce; that they should be completely cleared if innocent and hanged by the neck until dead if guilty

"It is a murder trial, solely and simply said the Governor, "and no amount of agitation and misunderstanding can make it anything else. There is not and never has been the least occasion for hysterics or for the assumption, so widely and amazingly made, that the Government of the State of Idaho was intent upon convicting Moyer. 'I can only believe that in some way the labor organizations of the country have been sadly misled. Moyer and Heywood are labor leaders, it is true, but shall it be said that if a labor leader is accused of murder he shall not be tried? We are not going to try labor leaders in this case. We are going to try men. They are going to extort money from French restaurant to have a square deal from start to finishproprietors. The cases went over until no more and no less. Can any labor organization ask more than that?

"I cannot believe that any reputable labor organization would be content to have its leaders rest under the accusation of murder and seek no vindication in court. And for that reason I cannot help thinking that all the labor organizations of this country that have protested against the action of the State of Idaho in this case have been misled in some way. It would indeed be a grave prospect for this country if so large a proportion of its citizens were willing to put themselves on record as opposing a sincere and determined effort to discover the truth regarding the dastardly murder of one of the foremost citizens of the State of Idaho."

In addition to the many "protests" Gov. Gooding has received against the attitude of the State in the Moyer and Heywood case many threatening letters have been sent to him. Several of them have been adorned with skulls and crossbones and have promised him a variety of unpleasant finishes in case he did not stop the prosecution of the accused men. One letter postmarked Los Angeles gave him just a week to alter his course and announced that an avenger was even then on the way to kill him in case he did not repent

But Gov. Gooding is a man of unshakable courage. He disregards all threats with the single remark: "We have a murder case on our hands. We intend to try it.

That's all." Harry Orchard is confined in the State penitentiary about two miles out of Boise Moyer, Heywood and Pettibone are held in the county jail just beyond the capitol. SHAH MAY ABDICATE.

His Health Very Bad-Eldest Son Sum moned to Teheran.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, Dec. 3.-A telegram from Te. heran says that the Shah is about to hand over the management of affairs of State to the heir apparent, Prince Mohammed Muzaffar-ed-Din, the Shah of Persia, is suffering from dropsy, and the disease is said to be now affecting his head. He is the second son of Nasr-ed-Din, who was assassinated in 1896. He was born on March 25, 1853, at Teheran.

The Shah's first act on ascending the throne was to abolish all taxes on mean and bread. He is a student of Oriental languages, and has made several tours of Europe, visiting England, Germany and France. He has introduced many reforms in Persia, the latest being in last June, when he announced that he was consider ing a constitution for the empire.

The Shah has always been a lover of outdoor life and is a crack shot. His personal fortune is estimated at $200,000,000 and the value of his jewels at $20,000,000.

The heir apparent to the throne, who has been summoned to Teheran, is Mohammed Ali Mirza, a son of the Shah, born June 18, 1872. He received his education in Europe, and is said to be favorable to the civilization of the Occident. He has been acting as Governor-General of the province of Azerbaijan. He has five brothers and

CUBAN ELECTION PROGRAMME.

If Peace Reigns Two Batches of Congress men Will Be Chosen Together in 1907.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. HAVANA, Dec. 3 .- The decree removing from office the Congressmen elected last year is published to-day. The third clause

"The vacancies hereby declared in the House of Representatives shall be filled at elections to be held under the provisional government pursuant to the proclamation issued by the Provisional Governor of Cuba on September 29, 1906, and at the same elections Senatorial electors shall elected to elect Senators to fill vacancies in the Senate by this decree declared.' The fifth clause says:

"As the term of office of members of the House of Representatives elected in 1904 will expire on the first Monday of April, 1908, and as under the law of Cuba the election of their successors should be held on December 1, 1907, and as it is obviously unwise and against public interests to hold two Congressional elections during 1907; therefore, if moral peace, tranquillity and public confidence are restored to such an extent that the special elections referred to in the proclamation of the Provisional Governor, dated September 29, 1906, can be held prior to the date of the said regular elections in December, 1907, there shall also be elected at such special elections the successors of those members of the House of Representatives who were elected in 1904."

It is claimed that the business element is disappointed that the decree does not give definite assurance of American control. Senor Sanguily considers that these expressions of a feeling of insecurity by business people are prompted by the hope of obtaining permanent intervention, leading free trade. The planters and others interested in this phase of the question therefore encourage the idea that conditions are insecure in the hope of obtaining their desired end.

SLEEPING SICKNESS CURES. German Doctors Treating Natives in toria Nyanza Region.

Berlin, Dec. 3 .-- The Lokal Anzeiger says that Prof. Robert Koch's expedition for the investigation of "sleeping sickness" is now in the Sesse Islands in Lake Victoria Nyanza. As soon as the object of the expedition was known victims of the disease came in hundreds from adjoining islands. At latest accounts 400 were awaiting treatment, some in the last stage of exhaustion. They were carried in cloths and nets and by other primitive contrivances.

The doctors, the Lokal Anzeiger's account says, are working ceaselessly from 6 o'clock in the morning till 6 o'clock at night. Some of the more interesting cases have been photographed. Many sank into the fatal sleep in front of the camera.

The treatment given by the doctors is having astonishingly successful results.

MORET MINISTRY FORCED OUT

MADRID ON VERGE OF RIOTS.

AFFER & DAYS RULE. President Montero-Ries Denounced in the

Senate the Manner of Its Accession-Apery Crowds Throng Streets-Agita tors Busy-Troops on the Alert. Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN

MADRID, Dec. 8 .- The Moret Ministry, which went into office last Thursday, resigned to-day.

. The city is much excited over the political orisis. Noisy groups carrying red banners gathered this evening in the neighborhood of the Senate and Chamber and shouted threateningly.

The police scattered the crowd, arresting several persons, but the populace gathered again, and their numbers are constantly increasing. There is every sign that a riot is brewing. As the evening advanced the crowds focussed in the Puerta del Sol outside the Ministry of the Interior. Many well known agitators are moving busily among the people, and there is much angry talking.

At the moment of telegraphing a great force of police is out, and the Governo holding troops in readiness in case their services are necessary. Nevertheless, it is hoped that the night will pass without a serious outbreak.

The situation is not easy to explain, but in addition to the popular feeling aroused by the Moroccan and Church questions there is strong antagonism among the various Liberal factions. The personal animosities of the Liberal leaders prevent their party from uniting to govern.

Señor Moret's action in forcing the resignation of the Dominguez Ministry last week embittered popular as well as Parliamentary feeling. His momentary success has now ended in his own resignation, after the briefest term of office on record even in Spain, where Cabinet crises are more frequent than anywhere in Europe

His retirement resulted directly from the action taken earlier in the day by Senor Montero-Rios, president of the Senate. Señor Montero-Rios objected to the terms of a motion submitted to the Senate censuring those responsible for last week's Cabinet crisis and he resigned.

Thereupon Senor Moret declared that was impossible for him to continue in office and he went to the Palace and told the King that he must resign. His Majesty acquiesced, but being anxious to have a Liberal Government, his sympathies being with the democracy, he asked Senor Montero-Rios to try to harmonize the troubles. The latter undertook to try to construct a Cabinet by a concentration of the Liberal factions, but he soon found the effort hopeless. King Alfonso then appealed to Marquis de la Vega, another Liberal, whose success or non-success is not yet known. The bulk of popular feeling in the capital seems to support the King in his endeavor to keep the Liberals in power, but it is impossible to predict the final outcome of the The campaign of the Clericals against the Liberals in connection with the associations law is increasing in violence throughout the country. They are much encouraged by the constant Liberal dissensions and they hope to see the King compelled to call upon Señor Maura to form a Conservative Cabinet. They are holding numerous meetings and collecting signatures against the associations bill. One petition, signed by 30,000 Spanish women, is ready to be sent to the King. It was started by the Duchess of Bailen, who, on behalf of the women of Spain, has telegraphed to the Pope declaring their devotion to his Holiness and the

The Moret Ministry went into office only on Thursday last. The resignation of Prime Minister Moret was foreshadowed on Saturday when a demonstration hostile to him was made in both chambers of the Cortes and his predecesso; Lopez Dominguez, received an ovation. The old Ministry came into office on November 29, after Moret had written a letter which impressed ing Alfonso. This letter was criticised severely by the entire Liberal press, which declared that it had been "dictated in Rome." The pending troubles with the Church and with Morocco made Moret's position untenable. On Saturday ex-Prime Minister Dominguez made a speech before the Senate, explaining the causes for his resignation and the manner in which his speech was received clearly indicated the downfall of Moret.

BIG TIM SENATOR, AFTER ALL? Story That Mullaney Will Resign, Now That Hearst Is Beaten.

A story came from Albany yesterday that Big Tim Sullivan, who declined to run for the Senate at the last election because of the Hearst opposition, would get there after all. It said that Dominick F. Mullaney, who was elected from the Eleventh district, would resign promptly after the convening of the Legislature on January 1, and that at the special elec-tion to follow Tim would be elected. There tion to follow Tim would be elected. There was no trouble about getting the votes last time, but the policy then was to placate Hearst, who was thought to have a chance to be elected Governor.

It would be no hardship to Mullaney to give way. He has a remunerative job as a court clerk.

Big Tim Sullivan is now in the West. Little Tim Sullivan, when he was asked if there was anything in the report, professed to know nothing about it.

fessed to know nothing about it.

Croker Still on Democratic Club Board At the annual meeting of the National Democratic Club last night these governors were elected to serve until December, 1909: Richard Croker, John Fox, John F. Carroll, Cord Meyer, Robert A. Van Wyck, Andrew Freedman, Lewis Nixon and Ran-dolph Guggenheimer.

Four additional members of the board will be named by the board itself at its first meeting to-night.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION.

Three men were killed, one man so badly injured that he cannot live and eleven others hurt when a box containing forty pounds of dynamite in sticks exploded in Tube B of the Pennsylvania tunnel running from Thirty-fourth street this city, to Long Island

City shortly after 7 o'clock last night. The explosion occurred 270 feet out from Long Island City in the large shaft opposite the Long Island Railroad station. The detonation was not heard on the street of even at the foot of the shaft, and the accident became known when several of the less seriously injured staggered out through the heading and gave the alarm.

The dead are Stanley Schmidt, 25 years old, Oakland street, Greenpoint; John Stedwin, 30, 124th street and First avenues John Woregos, 22, address not known,

These men were rock drillers. Richard Bonner, a driller living at 124th street and First avenue, is the most seriously injured. He is in St. John's Hospital suffering from a fractured skull and internal injuries. William Gorman, the foreman of the dynamiting gang, was taken to the hospital. He is 48 years old and lives at 680 Wendover avenue, The Bronx. He was injured internally. Tony Viveneto, address unknown, was taken to the hospital suffering from contusions and lacerations of the thighs and leg. Michael Schmidt of a North Seventh street, Williamsburg, is in the hospital with contusions and lacerstions of the body and a severe scalp wound.

The others injured are James Cotten. John Jordan, Patrick Hassey, Charles Jenkins, Charles Spillane, John Stadick, Daniel Egan and Charles Buchner. They were all more or less bruised. They were attended by the physicians maintained by the contractors, Pierson & Son, in a temporary hospital at the top of the shaft. The drilling gang went to work at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They had made several borings and were working seventy feet from the heading or shield that had been placed at a distance of 200 feet out from the foot of the shaft. At 7 o'clock Foreman Gorman came down to place the dynamite. He had done much of the blasting for the New York subway and is considered an expert in this line. It is a rule with the contractors and their men that all electric lights shall be disconnected when the dynamite is to be set off. This was done last night. All of the globes were unscrewed and carried back to the entrance of the section where the shield separates it from the remainder of the tunnel. The men then worked by candle light. The box of dynamite was carried to the edge of the wall of rock where the drilling had been done and was opened. Timothy Lynch, the foreman of the rock drillers, who escaped with only a few slight bruises, sava that he saw a small sheet of flame on the bottom of the tube near the boring was unable, to indicate the appointee, but | and thinks that one of the dynamiting gang dropped a match that he had used in lighting a candle into the opened dynamite box. The explosive was in sticks and they had been more or less stirred around in the box. These sticks are covered with heavy greased paper and at the end of each stick is a detonator. Lynch is sure that the flame he saw was that coming from the burning of the greased wrapper of one of the dynamite sticks.

Lynch cried out: "For God's sake, men, run for your lives!" The men did, and headed by Lynch there was a stampede for the door in the shield A terrific report soon followed and all of the men were thrown from their feet and landed in a heap toward the shore end. Lynch and the other less seriously injure from the Manhattan to the Brooklyn end | are unable to explain just what happened at 6:10 o'clock last night. The break oc- after the report, but they think that the curred between the New York anchorage | Brst stick seen burning exploded and starte.

The tube was filled with smoke and dirt. Lynch was the first to reach the shield fresh air and allowed the smoke to clear so that the work of rescue could be begun. possible. The three dead men were found very near the boring and evidently had not heard Lynch's warning. The doctors said that their deaths were instantaneous.

In a statement made after the accident and after he had gone into the tube and made a thorough examination, Supt. Japp. in charge of the work on the tubes, said that the explosion had in no wise injured the tube. He said that the fact that the dynamite sticks were scattered in the box and the space of seventy feet of tubing gave the force of the explosion room to spend itself. This saved the tunnel from being damaged. Supt. Japp said that had the sticks of dynamite been packed tight that none of the men at work in the section would have likely escaped alive.

No arrests were made, as the police decided that the only one technically to blame was Foreman Gorman of the dynamiting gang and that he was too seriously injures at the hospital to be even questioned las DENY THAT DOWIE IS INSANE His Followers Say Rambling Address Was Intended to Be an Allegory.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.-Denial was made to-day by the followers of John Alexander Dowie that the deposed ruler of Zion City is insane.

When Dowie addressed 200 of his followers in Shiloh House he assumed the character of a soldier at the head of an army, but his faithful adherents declare he was only speaking in allegory.

Many who heard the incoherent address believed his mind had given away under the strain of his troubles.

Terry McGovern Calls on the President Washington, Dec. 3.-Terry McGovern, the pugilist, called at the White House today to pay his respects to the President. The visit took place shortly after noon, and although there had been a big rush of Congressional callers earlier in the day the President was at comparative leisure. He spent several minutes in talking with Terry and a young man whom he introduced to the President as his private secretary. Terry said it was a great honor to meet the President and he assured him he was always at his service.
